ROME

Rome, known as the Eternal City has attracted visitors for over 2,000 years. It is one of the most magnificent and romantic cities in the world. Rome has an attractive mix of grandiose sights and bustling city life. Life is sweet – the cake is there for the eating. Italian designer shopping, smooth ice cream, frothy cappuccino and exquisite wines to name but a few things.

THE CITY

© Antoine Beyeler

Where do you start to summarise the history of the Eternal City?

A good date might be 21 April 753 B.C. The day when Romulus is said to have founded the city after murdering his twin brother Remus. During the following centuries Rome grew into a powerful empire whose peak was during the rule of Marcus Aurelius in 161-180 A.D. Just like the ancient city, Rome today is built on seven hills: Capitolino, Palatino, Quirinale, Viminale, Esquilino, Celio and Aventino. The central area is called Campo Marzio, named after the Roman god of war, and was the ancient army's training grounds. This is where many of the famous sights are located. Other well-known areas are Trastevere, on the other side of the River Tiber, and Monti. Little Pigneto is considered the most Roman neighbourhood.

DO & SEE

© Vladimir Khirman

Rome is one of a kind. No other city, not even Athens, Istanbul, London, or New York has as many world-class sites as Rome. Walking down Via del Fori Imperiali towards the Coliseum will impress even the most spoiled and shopping-crazed teenager. The city has so much to offer. In addition to the Roman heritage there are also medieval neighbourhoods, well designed squares, colourful markets and of course the Vatican and St. Peter's Basilica.

This Rome guide suggests a few other places that must be seen:

Fontana di Trevi

Anita Ekberg made the fountain famous in the film "La Dolce Vita". Funnily enough, it actually looks bigger in real life.

Address: Piazza di Trevi

Pantheon

It doesn't look like much from the outside, but once inside, this 2,000-year-old temple with its cupola, impresses.

Address: Piazza della Rotonda

Forum Romanum

It is like a fairytale with its mosaic of temple ruins, worn marble streets and basilicas. Forum Romanum was the commercial, political, and religious centre of ancient Rome. The Coliseum, the mother of all modern giant arenas, is nearby.

Galleria Borghese

Rome falls short of Venice and Florence when it comes to art, but this gallery is an exception. It shows masterpieces by artists such as Bernini, Titian and Caravaggio.

Address: Villa Borghese park

Piazza Navona

According to some, this is the most beautiful square in the whole world. Not only because of its statues and fountains such as Lorenzo Bernini's Fontana dei Quattro Fiumi, but because of its dimensions. This large rectangular square still manages to feel intimate.

Domus Aurea – Nero's Golden House

In the year 64 Emperor Nero built a palace almost one mile long – from the Palatine hill all the way to the Oppio hill. Some parts were covered in gold, precious stones and splendid decorations. After Nero's death, it was all filled in with earth in order to obliterate the tyrant's memory. It was accidentally rediscovered in the 15th century and today you can walk through 30 of Nero's 150 underground rooms.

Address: Via della Domus Aurea (almost directly opposite the Colosseum)
Phone: +39 06 399677 00

Santa Costanza

Rome has more churches than almost any other city in the world. One of the most beautiful, Santa Costanza, can be found in Via Nomentana in the north of Rome. Ceiling frescoes from the 4th century. The waiting time for weddings here is several years.

Address: Via di Santa Costanza

Botanical Gardens

The botanical gardens at the foot of the Janiculum hill have more than 7,000 different kinds of plants and flowers, especially roses.

Address: Largo Cristina di Svezia 24
Phone: +39 06 4991 7106

Museo di Roma

The Museo di Roma houses approximately 40,000 sculptures, paintings and mosaics describing Rome's history from the Middle Ages until 1870. The museum is located in Palazzo Braschi, built in the 18th century. During the fascist regime Mussolini moved here and made it his political headquarters. After the Second World War 300 families were evacuated to this location and many of the frescoes were damaged by the fires people lit in order to keep warm.

Address: Via di S. Pantaleo 10
Underground: 40, 46, 62 to Corso Vittorio Emanuele

EATING

© iStock

Rome restaurants cater to all tastes. There are American steakhouses, Lebanese meze restaurants, Vietnamese eateries, and a number of haute cuisine establishments celebrated in the Guide Michelin. But "when in Rome, do as the Romans do" and choose the less extravagant restaurants and trattorias for a memorable dining experience.

The Italian word for dinner, cena, comes from the Latin convivium. A word which means "live together" and that is precisely what you do. Eating is a social get-together which lasts at least three courses – often even at lunchtime.

The Romans do not eat dinner until 9 in the evening.

The traditional Roman pasta is called Carbonara and is made from pork, and whipped egg yolk with lots of parmesan and black pepper, or all'Amatriciana with bacon, tomato and onion.

Vegetables are ordered as a side dish, contorno, accompanying the main dish, e.g. tossed spinach or chicory with garlic and pepperoncino (Spanish peppers).

Da Franco

Da Franco is an airy and sparsely decorated seafood restaurant located in the San Lorenzo neighbourhood, home to many of the city's students. The menu offers good value for money. A six course weekend lunch with deep-fried vegetables, steamed mussels and a half bottle of wine is only €16.

Address: Via del Falisci 2

Phone: +39-06-49 57 675

Da Marcello

A proper un buco, or hole-in-the wall type of place, close to Da Franco, always packed with people, and with a surprisingly extensive menu. Closed on Sundays.

Address: Via dei Campani 12

Phone: +39-06446364

Gino

A simple trattoria popular amongst politicians and journalists. It proves that when it comes to food, the Romans are no snobs. The speciality of the house is coniglio al vino bianco (rabbit in white wine) and an exquisite tiramisu.

Address: Vicolo Rossini 4, near the Spanish Steps

Phone: +39-06-687 3434

Betto e Mary

Bustling, loud and with large portions is the best way of describing Betto e Mary. The restaurant makes its own egg pasta, gramiccia, and serves it with a range of sauces. Try the saltimbocca alla romana, veal, Parma ham and sage.

Address: Via dei Savorgnan 99

Phone: +39-0645421780

Cesare

A popular local restaurant in Prati, close to the Vatican. The menu is full of classic Italian dishes and, as always in Rome, gnocchi is served on Thursdays. Cesare also has a selection of deli cold cuts like prosciutto di cervo, made with deer.

Address: Via Crescenzo 13

Phone: +39-06-686 1227

Il Desiderio Preso per la Coda

This restaurant is tucked away behind Piazza Navona and its tourist traps. The menu is Tuscan and has several rustic dishes including pappa al pomodoro (bread and tomato soup), fig risotto, and polpettone (meatloaf).

CAFÉS

© Dave Huss

Italy is a mecca when it comes to coffee and the Romans know exactly which cafés to visit. They know which places are the best, and don't mind going across town to visit them. Here are a few good places in central Rome:

Caffè Sant' Eustachio

Bags of coffee beans rest on the floor and images of plantations adorn the walls. It has looked the same for as long as anyone can remember. In addition to the different types of coffees that can be sampled, they also serve gran caffè, a cappuccino without milk, where the coffee is foamed instead.

Address: Piazza Sant'Eustachio 82

Tazza d'Oro

Another popular café known for its exceptionally strong coffee. A much admired granita al caffè, flavoured ice with coffee and whipped cream is also available.

Address: Via degli Orfani 84-86

Gelato di San Crispino

When Romans talk about the best ice cream parlours, San Crispino almost always comes out on top. It's primarily their zabaione, made with a 20-year-old Marsala, which attracts attention. Other flavours are lampone (raspberry), and pistachio.

Address: Via della Panetteria 42

Fiocco di Neve

Almost as popular is Fiocco di Nevi, "the snow flake", close to famous Giolittis. Many locals claim that the city's best zabaione can be found here. Also try the chocolate ice cream, laced with orange - the Roman way.

Address: Via del Pantheon 51

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

© iStock

The Romans love to meet over an aperitivo around 19.30, after which they either go on to a restaurant or home for dinner. The drinks need not necessarily be alcoholic. Many bars serve light snacks which are included in the price.

After 23.00 most of those looking to party head over to the Testaccio area. Named after the mountain of discarded amphoras, the area is home to many locali, ranging from small piano bars to equally small discos. Among the best known are the rock bars Akab and Radio Londra, Latino chic Caruso, and Rome's first gay disco – Alibi. Make sure you take a night out on the bar and club scene in Rome.

Bar della Pace

Everyone agrees that this is the premier place for cocktails and celebrity-spotting. Despite the crowds and the tourists, movie stars and media celebrities still flock here.

Address: Via della Pace 4-7
Phone: +39-06-686 12 16

Bar del Fico

Close to Bar della Pace, but with more locals and a higher tempo – especially in the summer time.

Address: Piazza del Fico 26

Rosati

If you want a quieter start to the evening, with waiters in white jackets, this is your place. Not much has changed here since Calvino, Pasolini and other leftist intellectuals sat here in the 1960's.

Address: Piazza del Popolo 5

Friends

Has won several awards for its aperitivi. After 18.00 they serve a buffet with small appetizers. Young bar with modern design in Trastevere.

Address: Piazza Trilussa

Bloom

Rome's trendiest watering hole - a sushi restaurant which turns into a cocktail bar after midnight.

Address: Via del Teatro Pace 30

Goa

One of Rome's largest discotheques with a laser show and hundreds of people on the dance floor. Leonardo di Caprio danced here when "Gangs of New York" was filmed at Cinecittà.

Located right next door is Le Distillerie which has a different feel, softer with a bar and restaurant.

Address: Via Libetta 13

La Maison

La Maison is situated in the historic centre and often has famous international guests in its VIP section.

Address: Vicolo dei Granai 3, near Piazza Navona

Supperclub

Supperclub is near the Pantheon with a champagne bar.

Address: Via de'Nari 14

Gilda

The traditional nightclub Gilda, not far from the Spanish Steps, still retains its style and mainly attracts more mature guests.

Address: Via Mario de' Fiori 97

SHOPPING

© S. Greg Panosian

High fashion shopping in Rome is concentrated to two streets running parallel to each other from the Spanish Steps. Via Condotti is home to Prada, Valentino, Gucci, Armani, and Max-Mara. Over on Via Borgognona, one can find the likes of Dolce & Gabbana, Versace, Gianfranco Ferré, Laura Biagiotti, and Gai Mattiolo. Closer to Piazza Navona is Via dei Giubbonari, and its street fashion stores McQueen and Liquid. Nearby is also Via del Governo Vecchio, with its elegant vintage fashion boutiques.

When it comes to food, Rome has several attractions. Volpetti on Via Marmorata 47 in Testaccio is as close to heaven as you can get. This bustling, high paced place offers many deli options. Latini pasta from Osimo, salsiccia and spicy sandwich meats. Its speciality, however, is its cheeses, including the formaggio di fossa, matured underground. Two other delis to revel in are ancient Franchi and Castroni on Via Cola di Rienzo. Castroni offers a slightly more international selection. Campo de' Fiori is the site of a daily food market that embodies the terms picturesque and colourful. Come early when the shadows are long and the morning is at its freshest. Another nice market, with more of a food hall atmosphere, is Mercato di Testaccio. Upmarket antiques can be found on Via dei Coronari, jewellers on Via dell'Orso and Via dei Pianellari. Via San Francesco di Sales 85 is the address for Cereria Di Giorgio, which sells all kinds of candles. The Vatican is their largest customer. In the long shopping street Via del Corso, which runs from Piazza Venezia down to Piazza del Popolo, there are shops to suit most pockets. Chains such as Stefanel, Etam, The Group and Benetton are sandwiched between specialist boutiques. Also many shoe shops, sports shops and music stores such as Il Messaggero Musicale. Cola di Rienzo in the Prati district of the city is also lined with various reasonably priced shops.

Rome does not have the department store culture of many other large cities. The Romans prefer small, intimate and familiar boutiques. In the centre there are two department store chains:

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

© Hedda Gjerpen

Fastcheck's free Rome travel guide provides you with some essential information before your trip. At the end of the guide you will find maps and street index.

Airport

Rome's main airport, Leonardo da Vinci, is located in Fiumicino, 30 kilometres (18.5 miles) from the city. The most convenient way to reach Rome is by train direct to the Termini railway station. Tickets cost €9. Taxicabs charge approximately €40 for the same journey. The city's second airport Ciampino is mainly served by low-cost airlines and package tours. Some of the low-cost airlines have their own buses. Tickets are normally €7 one-way. The regular buses depart from the nearby underground station Anagnina for €1. A taxi ride from the airport and central Rome takes 20 minutes and costs just over €32. More information is available at:

Internet: www.adr.it

Public transport

The Termini station is the hub for Rome's transportation network. The name of the local bus and streetcar company is ATAC. All tickets must be purchased from ATAC ticket machines, newsagents, or ticket outlets on the underground. Tickets cost from €1.60 and are valid for 75 minutes. The underground runs until midnight. Night buses stop at stations marked "N".

Taxi

Taxi stands can be found throughout the city centre. It is recommended that tourists only use the licensed yellow and white taxis. An extra fee is payable per suitcase to and from the airport. There is also a surcharge at night, on public holidays and on Sundays. It is cheaper to hail a taxi in the street than at a taxi stand or to book via telephone. Tipping at 5-10% is encouraged.

Phone: +39 06-3570, +39 06-4994, +39 06-6645

Post

The Post Office is usually open between 09.00-14.30 from Monday to Friday and between 09.30 - 13.00 on Saturdays.

Stamps can be bought at tobacconists that either carry the blue and white "Tabacchi" sign or are simply marked "T".
